

Tanner Frost

PHOTOGRAPHER

A fine art degree paired with experience in the aerospace industry yields an extensive understanding and love for the art and science of photography - from historical processes and film to the vast capabilities of the digital medium, modern optics, and computer software. My current role revolves around creating media for the College of Life Sciences at BYU and mentoring talented student creators.

Multimedia Manager

Brigham Young University - Provo, Utah

- I create still and video media for publications of the events, awards, activities, research, and stories occurring within the College of Life Sciences
- I manage and mentor a team of student photographers, videographers, and editors.
- Over the course of a year, I created 9 videos for BYU's 150th anniversary - interviewing over 50 students and faculty, and shooting hours of b-roll for each video.

Associate Photographer

Northrop Grumman - Promontory, Utah

- High-Speed Video: I created high-speed videos of aerospace testing including igniters, flares, rocket motors, etc. for customers such as NASA, and the U.S. Armed Forces. Test experience includes static test of FSB-2 booster and LAS for the SLS Artemis Program. I created and compiled schematic diagrams of major test bays streamlining high-speed video setup.
- Bravo to Our Stars Award, performance-based recognition - 19 Oct 2022
- Still Photography: I produced and created technically legible and artistic stills of aerospace manufacturing and testing processes and products for internal use, the customer, and public release. I documented corporate events and produced employee headshots.
